

Harp Case Tracing Instructions

Lever/folk harps are all different sizes and shapes and so require a tracing of your particular harp. Cases are custom made to fit each harp.

We are not trying to make a tight fitting garment, so your tracing will be fine.

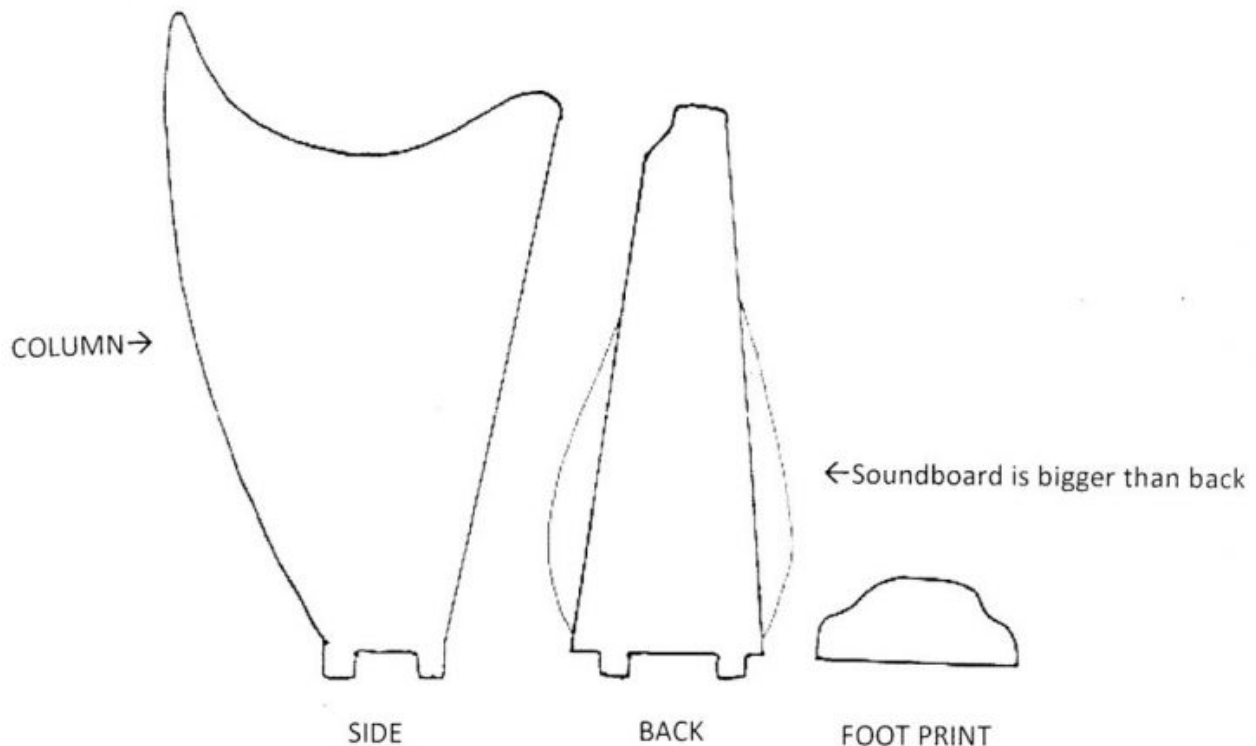

You will be making 3 or 4 tracings, each on separate paper. Newspaper taped together works fine, just make sure all seams are completely taped.

Lay the harp on the paper in each of the 3 positions shown below, and trace the outline with a pen/marker held perpendicular to the paper but touching the outer edge of the harp.

Be sure to note the widest part of the harp, even though it is not the part closest to the paper- such as an extended soundboard or tuning pins.

Please mark with an X on the footprint tracing where the column would be. If there is a crown piece of any kind at the top of the column, please send a tracing of the top of the crown.

In order to place the shoulder strap accurately, please mark along the column where the balance point is. The balance point can be found by picking your harp up somewhere near the middle of the column.

Soft Harp Case

"Hi Laurie,

The case arrived yesterday. The harp fits in it perfectly. I love the color, fabric, and straps. It is very durable, well-constructed, and light weight. You did an excellent job. Thank you. It has been a pleasure doing business with you.

Best regards, Joan"

"Hi Laurie,

I got my harp case few days ago. The color and the size are perfect for my harp. Thank you very much! Connie, in Canada"

Our cases are made with a durable, water-resistant foam laminated to a slick nylon with a 1/2" pad. The padding is light weight and bump-resistant. The case is fully lined to prevent catching on the pegs.

The zipper is heavy duty nylon with a special closure to keep the zipper away from the harp.

Our cases have adjustable webbed shoulder straps as well as easy carry handles and a roomy side pocket. When tracing please mark along the column where the balance point is. The balance point can be found by picking your harp up somewhere near the middle of the column. The straps will be placed there.

Please specify color: royal blue, purple, black, forest green, teal, gray, maroon or tan.
